

About the Conference

Animals are an integral part of Indian farming system. The productivity of animals are not up to the mark in comparison with other animals at global level. India is bestowed with 16 % of world livestock population and there is a huge potential to increase productivity. Therefore, keeping above fact in view, a national conference & Brainstorming session is being organized to deliberate on ways and means to increase the animal productivity.

Indian Society of Animal Production and Management (ISAPM)

Indian Society of Animal Production and Management (ISAPM) registered during 1983-84 at Bhubneshvar under the leadership of Dr. M. Mishra as its founder President. Since then ISAPM have made steady progress and presently having 1612 life members and contributing significantly to uplift the livestock keepers in the country.
